

TASKS FOR MONDAY, MARCH 23RD

Vocab Check

Which of your new words is meant? Write the solutions down and have your books/vocab exercise books closed.

1. March 23rd and March 24th are two _____ days (aufeinanderfolgend)
2. 120 km/h is a measure of _____ (Geschwindigkeit)
3. What size do you wear? Small, _____ or large? (mittel, mittelgroß)
4. You should always think of the _____ of your actions before you do something. (Wirkung)
5. to put or place in a horizontal position or position of rest (legen)
(Please write down all three forms of this verb)
6. These are different _____: (Formen)

7. What tricks do they _____ _____ _____? (benutzen, verwenden)

Please write down 1-2 sentences to answer the following question: What do you know about the differences of the people living in New York City?

(You will find the solutions to the vocab check on page 5 of this file.)

Homework Check

Please check if the workbook part of your homework is correct. Here are the solutions to the Workbook task (WB p. 24/5):

- 1a enthusiasm 2c flavors 3b specialty 4b delicious 5a country 6c dishes
7a carts 8b combination

(Preparation Tasks for the) Unit Task

- Today, you are going to do some preparation tasks and some work for the Unit task. Let's first have a look what the Unit task is:

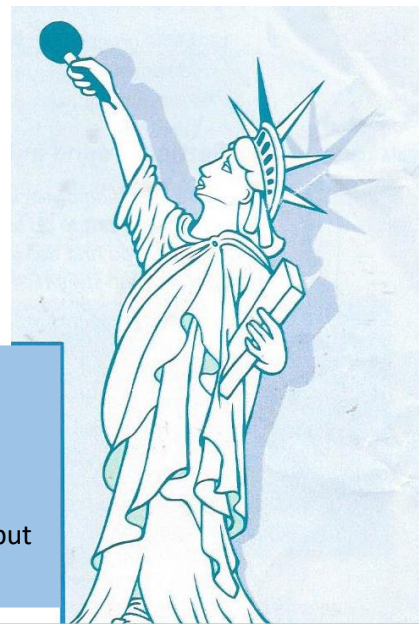

A pocketful of New York City dreams

You're going to make a podcast interview with different people in New York City who talk about their hopes and dreams. You can use information you learned in Unit 2 and do some internet research, too.

Step 1:

Choose a person who lives in New York or who is visiting.

tourist tourist guide rich boy/girl successful businessman/-woman taxi driver young student who has just moved to New York homeless person

Step 2:

Write a biographical profile

Write a short biographical profile of the person you have chosen. Try to make your listeners interested, but don't give away too much information.

Step 3:

Prepare your interviews

Prepare questions you're going to ask about the person's hopes and dreams. Think of answers you are going to give.

Step 4:

Present your interviews

The interviewer should give the short biographical profile first. Record your podcast interviews with your mobile phone OR have them in a written form.

Send them to your English teacher via e-mail (as podcast or in written form):

c.hecht@gymnasium-ochsenhausen.de

- Do the following Workbook task: p. 31/task 22 a
(You will find the solutions to these tasks on page 5 of this file.)
- Do Workbook p. 22b) and complete step 1 of the Unit task (=Choose a person who lives in New York or who is visiting) for your podcast interview.
- Do Workbook p. 32, task 23 and 24.
(You will find the solutions to these tasks on page 5/6 of this file.)
- Read the following interview with Daniel and do the following tasks (in written form):
 - 1.) What do you learn about Daniel and his New York City dreams
 - 2.) Write down why his diner is called 'Do-it-yourself'?
 - 3.) Note down which phrases from the useful phrases box on p. 62 in your book you can find in the interview.
 - 4.) What is important for a good interview? Make a list of criteria and write them down.
(You will find the solutions to these tasks on page 6 of this file.)

2 Conducting an interview: Daniel's Do-it-yourself Diner

- Sarah: Hi Daniel. Thanks for inviting me to your diner today.
- Daniel: Hey Sarah. Thanks for coming.
- Sarah: I love the decorating in here. It makes me feel so at home. Did you do it yourself?
- Daniel: Well, you might think so since that's the name of my diner, but I'm not very good at decorating so some of my friends helped me. They did it themselves.
- Sarah: I read that there's a story behind the name. What does the name of your diner mean exactly?
- Daniel: It means two things actually. I'll start with the easy one. You can really do a lot of things in my diner by yourself. I have a menu, but I also have a list of ingredients. That means that you can 'design' your own pizza, or sandwich or pasta dish.
- Sarah: So I tell you what I want on my pizza and then you make it for me?
- Daniel: Yes, or you make it yourself.
- Sarah: But don't you think that can cause problems? Am I really allowed to do that?
- Daniel: Well, I can't have 15 people in the kitchen at the same time and I have to keep everything very clean. But one guest can come back and help cook for their table. And if you help, your meal is cheaper.
- Sarah: What kind of food do you specialize in?
- Daniel: New York food.
- Sarah: Can you explain that to me?
- Daniel: Not really. Can you tell me what a New Yorker is?
- Sarah: Not really.
- Daniel: The food in my diner is a mix of a lot of different styles. Just like New Yorkers.
- Sarah: How long have you had your do-it-yourself diner?
- Daniel: That question actually brings me to the second reason that my diner has the name it does. I've had my diner for about 20 years. When I came to New York, I wanted to be an actor like a lot of young people. But instead I worked in a diner and found out that I really loved it.
- Sarah: What did you love about it? It's a lot different than acting on stage.
- Daniel: Not really. On stage you interact with the other actors and the audience and in the diner I interact with my customers. My diner can be my stage.
- Sarah: But why a do-it-yourself diner?
- Daniel: Because in New York if you want your dreams to come true, you have to do it all yourself. You can't depend on other people. And so I made my diner dream come true all by myself.

Sarah: And you never dream about being a stage actor anymore?
 Daniel: No, I don't. See all of these pictures on the wall? They're some of my customers. Their dreams have come true and many of them are famous now.
 Sarah: How many celebrities have worked here?
 Daniel: Hundreds have worked or eaten here. They did it all themselves.
 Sarah: So what are your goals for the next 20 years?
 Daniel: To keep doing it all myself and help others do it themselves too.
 Sarah: Thanks, Daniel, I enjoyed talking to you.

- Do step two of the Unit task (write a short biographical profile of the person you have chosen). You can write about a person that's only real in your imagination or about a real person. This writing task is also your homework (Keep in mind that you have to send me the Unit task when you have finished all steps (either as podcast or in written form). If you choose to send me the Unit task in written form, it's probably a good idea to have the biographical profile written on the computer because you have to send it to me via email.)
 Write at least 8-10 sentences.

If you need examples for biographical profiles, have a look at p. 62/1b or at the following short one (it's the solution to a task you had to do on Friday (Workbook p. 31/21a)..I forgot to send you the solution but here it is now)

Alicia Corden has been living in New York City since her birth. Her parents are famous celebrities: Her dad Brad is a rock star and her mother's family has ships, hotels and a baseball team. She has acted in a couple of movies and has recorded some songs.

Alicia and her family lives in one of the most important blocks in Manhattan, which has a great view. She likes partying and normally goes to parties with many other rich and famous people three or four nights a week. In her holidays she likes to go to her family's private island near the coast of Mexico or to their castle in Scotland.

Alicia loves to spend money- last year she gave her dog $50 bottles of water from a mountain in Africa. And she is a shopping addict- she goes shopping in the most expensive stores in Manhattan and has a personal shopping assistant who pays her bills and carries her bags and a personal driver.

If you have no idea who should be the person you want to write about, it could be Brett Conti (The YouTuber was born in United States on June 21, 1992. Skateboarder and businessman who co-founded the skateboard company Fortune Skateboards. He is famous for his videos about skating, entrepreneurship and other subjects on his YouTube channel, which currently boasts over 150,000 subscribers.). Here are two web pages for more information on him:

<https://fortuneny.com/pages/about-1> https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=k7B7CwT9I_U

Homework: > Write a short biographical profile for your unit task.
 > book p. 68/12

Solutions

Vocab Check

1. consecutive
2. speed
3. medium
4. effect
5. (to) lay-laid-laid
6. shape
7. (to) make use of

What do you know about the differences of the people living in New York City?

There are many super-rich people in New York City. Some of them are businessmen or celebrities like actors/actresses or singers. However, there are also many homeless people in New York City. Additionally, the people living in New York have many different ethnics. Many immigrants had come to the city because they wanted to live their own from "rags to riches" success story- some could make their dream come true, others failed to make their living.

Workbook p. 31/task 22 a

One possible solution:

TOURIST - wants to see all the famous places - takes a lot of photos	TOUR GUIDE - doesn't earn much money - knows everything about the sights	SUCCESSFUL BUSINESSMAN/WOMAN - works very long hours - has a lot of money	HOMELESS PERSON - hates asking people on the street for money - hopes to find a good place to sleep
RICH BOY/GIRL - goes to a lot of parties - loves to spend a lot of money for clothes, holidays,..	YOUNG STUDENT WHO HAS JUST MOVED TO NY - everything is very new and exciting - plans to go to a theatre play on Times Square	TAXI DRIVER - has had several famous passengers - often works at night	YOUR IDEA: real NY-er / NY marathon winner - a black boy/girl

Workbook p. 32, task 23 and 24

23 Add information to the profile

2. Chad, who gives tours in the center of Manhattan, has been a guide for 20 years.
3. Large apartments in Manhattan, which is the most expensive part of New York, can cost millions of dollars.
4. Chelsea drives one of New York's yellow taxi, which are a symbol of the city.
5. Business people like Kathryn, who works for an international bank, often work long hours.
6. Jared, who is studying history, has been in New York for only a few weeks.
7. Each evening Scott goes to his homeless shelter, which is simple but clean and safe.

24 Prepare questions

Write the questions which the interviewer asked Logan. Look at the 'Useful phrases' box on page 62 in your book for help.

Logan, who is studying drama, has been in New York since October. He is 18 years old and had never visited New York or any other big city before. He has got a small room in a block for students from college¹.

Interviewer: Where did you grow up, Logan?

Logan: In a small town in the Midwest. It's called Fairview.

Interviewer: Can you tell me more about Fairview?

Logan: Sure. The population is about 50,000, and it's a one-hour drive to the next town. It was a nice place to grow up, but I'd been planning to move away since I was about Interviewer: How long have you been living here in New York?

Logan: I've been here for three months now.

Interviewer: And what are your feelings about the city?

Logan: I love it!

Interviewer: Tell me a little more about that.

Logan: Well, there's always something interesting going on, and I've met lots of really interesting people.

Interviewer: What are the cons of living in New York?

Logan: It's expensive to live here, which can be difficult sometimes, and it's really cold at the moment!

Interviewer: Why did you choose to come to New York? What are your goals?

Logan: I'd like to work in the theaters here, which are some of the best in the world.

¹ college (AE) ['kɒlɪdʒ] Universität

Tasks to the interview

1 Daniel's dreams: When Daniel came to New York 20 years ago, he wanted to be an actor like a lot of young people. But instead he worked in a diner and found out that he really loved it. So he opened his own diner.

2 'Do it-yourself Diner' means two things. You can really do a lot of things in Daniel's diner by yourself. He has a menu and a list of ingredients. That means that the guests can 'design' their own pizza, sandwich or pasta dish. And if you help in the kitchen, your meal is cheaper. The second reason for the name of his diner is that he made his diner dream come true all by himself, which you have to do in New York if you want your dreams to come true.

3 But don't you think that can cause problems?/Can you explain that to me?/Can you tell me what a New Yorker is?/How long have you had your Do-it-yourself Diner?/How many celebrities have worked here?/So what are your goals for the next 20 years?/Thanks, Daniel, I enjoyed talking to you.

- 4 The interviewer ...
- makes sure that the interview is well-structured;
 - listens carefully to his/her interviewee(s);
 - has follow-up questions throughout the interview;
 - is friendly and makes the interviewee(s) feel comfortable;
 - does not interrupt his/her interviewee(s);
 - speaks fluently and clearly;
 - uses spoken English (not formal, but avoids colloquial

English)